1. The student council of your school wrote this newsletter for November. Read the newsletter and do the tasks below.

> November News from the Student Council
> Dear students, November is a busy month at our school. Here is our programme.
> On 10 November at 9.05, we will stand in silence for one minute in the schoolyard for Atatürk. After that, the history club will open a photo exhibition in the library. You can see photos of Atatürk with children and teachers.
>
> On Friday, 14 November, there is a chess tournament in the canteen after lunch. Twenty-four players from all classes will take part. The winner will get a wooden chess set from the sports club.
>
> On 21 November, the environment club will plant fifty pine trees on the hill behind the school. Bring gloves and a bottle of water, and wear old clothes because the ground is muddy. We also want to put new bins on the hill, so please don't leave any rubbish there.
> On 24 November, Teachers' Day, the school choir will sing three songs in the hall. The music club needs twenty more singers – join them! After the concert, the students of 9-D will give flowers to the teachers.
>
> On 28 November, the drama club will perform a comedy, "The Lost Bag", in the hall of the primary school next door. Tickets are free, but you must get one from the student council room before Wednesday.
> Remember: you can't take photos during the one-minute silence. See you at the events!

3. Read the magazine article about a family and do the tasks below.

Small House, Big Family

Last year, the Aksoy family did something unusual. They sold their four-bedroom flat in Bursa and moved into a tiny house on wheels in a field by the sea. The house is only thirty square metres, but four people live in it: Selim (16), his sister Nehir (12) and their parents.

"At first, it was a disaster," says Selim. "Nehir and I had a hundred books, three guitars and boxes of old toys. There was no space for them." The family's solution was simple: they gave most of their things to a charity shop and kept only their favourites. Now Selim has ten books at home, and he borrows the others from the library.

The second problem was privacy. In the flat, everybody had a room. In the tiny house, Selim and Nehir sleep in a loft under the roof, and their parents' bed is in the living room. "When I wanted to talk to my friends on the phone, everybody could hear me," says Nehir. So her father built a small wooden cabin in the garden. It has a desk, a chair and a lamp. The children use it for homework and phone calls, and nobody can go in without knocking.

Noise was the last problem. Their mother works from home as a translator, and she needs silence. Now the family has a "quiet hour" every afternoon between two and three o'clock. Nobody plays music, and nobody watches TV.

Is Selim happy with his new life? "Yes," he says. "We spend more time together, we cook outside, and I can see the sea from my bed. I don't miss the flat at all."

3.1. Complete the sentences with information from the article. Short phrases are enough. (4x2=8 pts)

a. The Aksoy family's old home was a _____ in Bursa.

b. In the tiny house, Selim and Nehir sleep in _____.

c. The children's mother needs silence because _____.

d. The family's "quiet hour" is between _____.

3.2. Match the problems (1–3) with the solutions (a–d) according to the article. There is one extra solution. (3x2=6 pts)

Problem	Answer	Solution
1. too many things		a. a quiet hour every afternoon
2. no privacy		b. a wooden cabin in the garden
3. noise at home		c. giving things to a charity shop
		d. moving back to the flat

4. Kaan presents a programme on the school radio. Today his guest is a new student. Read the interview and do the tasks below.

> Kaan: Good morning! Today our guest is a new student from South America. Please introduce yourself.
>
> Valeria: Hi, everyone! My name is Valeria. I'm Peruvian, and I'm from Cusco, a city in the mountains of Peru.
> Kaan: Which languages can you speak?
>
> Valeria: Spanish is my first language. My grandmother speaks Quechua, an old language of the Andes, so I can understand it, but I can't speak it well. I can also speak English, and I'm learning Turkish now.
>
> Kaan: Is Cusco the capital of Peru?
>
> Valeria: No, it isn't. The capital is Lima. It's a big city on the coast. Tourists can walk around the Plaza Mayor, the main square, and try ceviche, our famous fish dish, in the restaurants near the sea.
>
> Kaan: What can tourists do in your region?
>
> Valeria: They can take the train from Cusco to Machu Picchu. It's an old Inca city on a mountain, about 2,400 metres high. There are llamas on the hills! Tourists can also visit the markets in Cusco and buy colourful woollen hats.
>
> Kaan: And when is your national day?
>
> Valeria: We have two days: 28 and 29 July. We call them Fiestas Patrias. There is a big parade in Lima, and people put the red and white flag on their houses. Families cook together and watch the parade on

6. The school website has a page called "Meet Our New Students". Niamh, a student from Ireland, wrote this text for the page. Read it and write your own text.

> Meet Our New Students: Niamh
> Hello! Let me introduce myself. My name is Niamh, and I'm sixteen. I'm Irish, and I'm from Galway, a small city in the west of Ireland. I can speak English and Irish. The capital of my country is Dublin. In Dublin, tourists can visit Trinity College and see the Book of Kells, a very old book. In my country, people can walk along the Cliffs of Moher and listen to live music in small cafés. Our national day is St Patrick's Day on 17 March. On that day, everybody wears green, and there is a parade in every town. I'm happy to be here!

Now write a similar text about yourself for the page (60–80 words). Use Niamh's text as a model and include the following information:

- your name, your age, your nationality and your home town, and the languages you can speak;
- the capital of your country and one place tourists can visit there;
- one activity for tourists in your country;
- your national day, its date and what people do on that day.

Start with the title "Meet Our New Students: (your name)". (22 pts)

Your text — write it on the lines below (60–80 words). Start with the title.
