1. Ardıç High School published this article on the school website before its Talent Evening. Read the article and do the tasks below.

> Talent Evening: Everything You Need to Know
>
> (1) Ardıç High School is getting ready for its biggest event of the term: Talent Evening. This year, the event will take place on Friday, 18 December, in the school sports hall. The doors will open at 6.30 p.m., and the programme will start at 7.00 p.m. All students, parents and teachers are welcome, and tickets are free.
>
> (2) The evening will begin with a short speech by the head teacher, Ms Yılmaz. After that, the school choir will sing three songs: a traditional Turkish folk song and two popular English songs. Then the school band will play two pieces. Students who want to sing with the choir must sign up by Monday, 7 December.
>
> (3) The main event of the night is a short play by the 9th and 10th grade students. It is called The Lighthouse Keeper, and it is about a young boy who helps his grandfather on a small island. The drama club practises every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. There are 18 students in the cast.
>
> (4) After the play, visitors can see the environment club's stand in the corridor. The club members made a model of a new garden for the school, with trees, benches and a small vegetable area. Visitors can vote for their favourite garden design. At the end of the night, the student council will give certificates to all the performers.

5. Read the article about the future of transport and do the tasks below.

> Roads of Tomorrow
>
> (1) Transport is changing very fast. For hundreds of years, people walked, rode horses or travelled on ships. Then trains, cars and planes came. Now engineers are building vehicles that we only saw in science fiction films before.
>
> (2) Self-driving cars are one of the biggest changes. These cars use cameras, sensors and computer programs, so they can move without a driver. Supporters say these cars will make roads safer because most accidents happen because of human mistakes. But some people are worried. They ask, "What will happen if the computer makes a mistake?"
>
> (3) Flying vehicles are another exciting idea. Some companies are testing small electric air taxis. They can take off and land like a helicopter, so they don't need an airport. In the future, they may carry passengers over busy city traffic. But there are still problems: the batteries don't last long, the sky above cities may become crowded, and many people don't feel safe in them yet.
>
> (4) Scientists are also thinking about life in space. A trip to Mars takes about seven months, so astronauts need special food, clean water and protection from dangerous radiation. Some scientists believe that people may live on other planets one day.
>
> (5) On the ground, in the air or in space, the future of transport depends on one thing: people's curiosity and their wish to solve new problems.

5.1. Match the headings (A–F) with the paragraphs (1–5). Write the paragraph number next to each heading. There is one extra heading. (5x2=10 pts)

B. A short history of transport
C. What the future really needs
D. Cars without drivers: for and against
E. Taxis in the sky
F. New bike roads in big cities

5.2. Answer the questions according to the article. Short answers are enough. (4x1=4 pts)

a. Why do supporters think self-driving cars will make roads safer?

b. Why don't air taxis need an airport?

c. Write one problem with flying vehicles.

d. Write one thing astronauts need on a trip to Mars.

6. The International Students Club of Ardıç High School is preparing a "Welcome to Our School" booklet. Read three pages from the booklet and do the tasks below.

> Wanjiru
>
> Jambo! That means "hello" in Swahili. I'm Wanjiru and I'm from Kenya. I speak Swahili and English. I live in Nairobi, the capital city. In Nairobi National Park, you can see giraffes and lions, and you can see the tall buildings of the city behind them! I love running – many famous runners come from my country. On 12 December, we celebrate Jamhuri Day. People watch parades and wave the national flag.
>
> Chloé
>
> Bonjour and hello! My name is Chloé. I'm Canadian, and I speak English and French. My home is Ottawa, the capital of Canada. Visitors often go to Parliament Hill because the buildings are very beautiful. In cold winters, the Rideau Canal freezes, and people skate on it. In summer, I go hiking with my family. Our national day is Canada Day, on 1 July. There are concerts and fireworks in every city.
>
> Tama
> Kia ora! I'm Tama from New Zealand. At home, we speak English and Māori. The capital of my country is Wellington. It is a windy city near the sea. You can visit Te Papa there – it is a big museum about nature and history. I love hiking in the mountains and watching rugby. We celebrate Waitangi Day on 6 February. On that day, people listen to music and learn about the history of our country.
